

Attachment

Dwayne Cleugh

Dwayne is the head coach and a committee member at Campbell Park Tennis Club, and has significant coaching experience both in New Zealand and internationally. Dwayne is focused on participation and pathways for players as ways of achieving success.

Martin Colenbrander

Martin is the head coach at Gladstone Tennis Club, and has played interclub and Caro Bowl for a number of years. Martin has been involved in a number of clubs over the years, and has strong views about the need for collaboration between clubs in order to achieve success.

Lynette Duncan

Lynette is a lawyer with a broad range of experience, including trust law. She is currently on the committee of the International Club, and is an active player for and has been on the committee of Eden Epsom Tennis Club.

Imogen Golder

Imogen is a senior management consultant at Deloitte. She was a top New Zealand junior player, winning national singles and doubles titles, and plays Caro Bowl for Parnell Tennis Club. Imogen is focused on raising brand awareness for tennis and looking for new ways of engaging with the community.

Howard Lewis

Howard is the CEO/owner of AB Electrical, and has significant business experience, including in IT/telco. He is a past-President and current Board member of Tennis Auckland, is an active player, and has held a number of committee roles at Mission Bay Tennis Club.

Leo McCormack

Leo has an accounting, finance and IT background, and has extensive business experience, including providing strategic commercial and financial advice. He is currently the President of the Campbell Park Tennis Club, and is an active player.

Craig Rice

Craig is a partner at PWC with a financial/strategy focus, as well as being a qualified lawyer, and advises significant organisations on strategy and large infrastructure projects. Craig is on the Board of SEED, is an active player at Orakei and Mission Bay clubs.